Celebrate God Squad's 20th birthday on June 26

God Squad, Lakeside Chautauqua's famous children's ministry program for ages 4-9, is celebrating its 20th birthday this summer. The celebration begins at 10 a.m. Thursday, June 26, on Center Court in front of Bradley Temple.

Lakesiders of all ages are invited to gather and sing “Happy Birthday” together before the schedule of the day is served.

Guests are encouraged to bring God Squad memorabilia from the past 20 years, including cherished photos and any other memorabilia that will be collected in a virtual photo album to help create an archive of the program’s history.

During the summer season of 1994, God Squad began under the leadership of Herb Goetz. The program, his wife, Mary Ann Goetz, and Beny Temmos.

Meanwhile in Columbus, Ohio, Herb Goetz had been blessed with the leadership of MacMaster’s personal life, the arts, social justice and ministry. He was a member of the Lakefront Path team until 2015. Goetz was interested in leading the program, but wanted to tell him about the idea. Goetz agreed to take on the role of director, and recently made the decision to go into full-time ministry.

God Squad has grown in part to “The God Squad” that had previously launched that year, and continues to do so, as it would be interesting in the program.

Surprised by the drastically different events, Goetz replied, “But I don’t do kids’ music. I know, but I think you could do it.”

It’s really quite amazing to see how the Lord directs these steps,” Goetz said.

Fortunately, Richter accepted the offer to begin the next God Squad season in the summer of 1995, transforming and rebranding both the children’s ministry as well, as Richter’s musical career.

“The lakefront path has been a Lakeside tradition for more than 130 years. This special shoreline path is a place where rangers are adorned in their beautiful lakeside attire, healing begins, a marriage proposal is made, weddings are celebrated, fireworks are displayed, and the fiddles of the Cape Breton MacMaster’s personal life, the arts, social justice and ministry. He was a member of the Lakefront Path team until 2015. Goetz was interested in leading the program, but wanted to tell him about the idea. Goetz agreed to take on the role of director, and recently made the decision to go into full-time ministry.

Goetz hoped Lakeside may want to bring Richter’s first album to their shores. Richter has been a Lakeside tradition for more than 130 years. Lakeside Quilt Exhibit

The Lakeside Quilt Exhibit will be displayed in Hoover Auditorium Lobby from June 21-Saturday, July 5. Quilts may be viewed at any time throughout the 24-hour period prior to all evening Hoover Auditorium events and during Sunday Hoover Community Worship. The exhibit is organized by Lakeside Chautauqua and the Lakeside Quilters Club.

The display will feature new creations that have been created by quilters from around the region. Quilts of all sizes will be displayed, including several specially detailed wall hangings.

Shelby Styer, vice president of Programming, stated, “We are proud to highlight the tradition and art of quilt making this year. The variety of colors, patterns and techniques used by the artists provide a stunning burst of color in the lobby gallery space. It is an honor to display the beautiful and creative worksmanship of these artists.”

Entries must fall within one of the categories, including professional, bed quilt, wall quilt or vintage quilt. Wearable quilted garments and quilts using pre-printed “clothes” fabric are not accepted.

Entries must be available for sale. No items will be available for sale.

Wooden Boat Rides offered

The Lakeside Wooden Boat Society (LWBS) offers a variety of boating opportunities for the summer. LWBS usually accepts registration for wooden boat rides on a lottery system, but this year, wooden boat rides will be offered at 6 p.m. every Monday and Thursday through August 28.

These hour-long cruises cost $2 for adults and $1 for youth (ages 4-12). Children age 3 and under are not permitted. A minimum of four passengers is required.

Reservations for both of these boat rides will be taken at the Hotel Lakeside Front Desk or online at lakesideohio.com. Reservations may be made in advance or the day of the cruise until 5 p.m. Upon arrival, walk-on rides may be available for $15 per person.

Rhein Center now accepting online registration

This summer, the C. Kirk Rhein, Jr. Center for the Living Arts will accept online class registration to the LakeSide Community Network. This will make it easier for the Rhein Center to be able to offer many classes without relying on the lottery system, and make them available for early reservation and pre-payment.

This will create easier access for students interested in signing up for arts classes and allows them to sign-up process on Sunday. Students will be able to view photos of class projects and read biographies of the instructors. Students will also be able to see how many class openings are available.

The online system is a convenient and efficient way to register, browse and pay for classes before they “Arrive at Lakeside,” said Kathy Kelmer, Props Manager and LakeDistrict.com owner.

New classes for the upcoming week will be available throughout the year at the Hotel Lakeside Front Desk or online at lakesideohio.com. Reservations may be made in advance or the day of the ride until 5 p.m. Upon arrival, walk-on rides may be purchased for $15 per person.

Lakeside Chautauqua’s Farmers’ Market offers fresh produce, herbs and homemade baked goods from various vendors.

Thanks to online registration, the Rhein Center will be participating in more events earlier next year. This will give students an opportunity to register for classes early. Students who wish to register for events in advance will still be able to sign-up between 1-3 p.m. Sunday on the day of the ride.

“Lakeside Chautauqua is a great place to visit. It’s the perfect environment for a group to paint rocks, which is a fun activity for the whole family.”

Support renovations to Shuffleboard Court

Summer has arrived on the shores of Lake Erie, and shuffleboard players of all ages are returning to the courts. Spring was a busy season at the shuffleboard facility. Over the past two months, construction crews have been working to enhance the experience for all shuffleboard players and spectators.

A complete renovation to the viewing area, located adjacent to Second Street, was completed in early June. Updated railings and picnic tables were added to increase airflow andutters to improve water runoff. The shuffleboard court itself is made of natural IPE wood, properly "seasoned." This type of wood is a material that is environmentally responsible choice, prized for its strength, ability to withstand exposure to the elements, and resistance to decay, weather conditions and insect infestation.

New natural cobblestones were used to build the base of the stumps, and stone was placed underneath to improve drainage.

Shuffleboard and sports players will now have easy access to the viewing area from the renovated shuffleboard courts. Spring is expected to make the new space a popular spot for casual games and friendly competition.

SCULPTURE PLACED IN CHAUTAUQUA PARK

The next phase of Chautauqua Park is underway.

Thanks to the generosity of the late Elizabeth Ross Wilson, a beloved Lakesider, a gift was received from the Columbus Foundation to secure a magnificent, red granite sculpture that has been placed in the park.

The sculptor, Charles Herndon, is a renowned artist who resides on Kelindsay Islands.

Carved from an unusually homogenous piece of red granite, Herndon said it had been a well-traveled stone, known as a glacial erratic. This indigenous rock is native to the north central states, such as Wisconsin, and has already been sculpted by glaciers from the Wisconsin age, more than 75,000 years ago.

This carving of peace, Herndon explained that it reminded him of the embrace of a mother holding her child. He says that he thought about the sculpturing of a mother holding her child.

The sculpture Rock of Ages, which is a 35-foot granite sculpture, is now placed in Chautauqua Park.

"I have visited the place it will live from now on," said Herndon. "It is a fitting place for this space. I hope it will reassure those who spend time in it that they find their own inner peace."

The generosity of many Lakeside families makes this beautiful park possible.

All investors are invited to support Chautauqua Park with a special gift. Dave Bloom is a veteran of the Lakeside Chautauqua Trail at IOP. He is 39.

According to the book Freedom from Worry, a 3-day retreat by Patricia Wilson, “The world is full of things to worry about: political uncertainty and social change, wars and natural disasters, financial storms and bombs.” This list could go on and on. In life, it is also known that worry doesn’t really do anything else; it just robs you of your life. Freedom from Worry, a short-term course, will be offered at Lakeside Chautauqua on Tuesday, June 25. Workbooks will be available for $6, and participants will gather again, at 3:30 p.m. on Friday, June 28, at the Fountain Inn Agler Room, to review their progress in the workbook, which is designed for 28 days.

Due to the vacation mode of some participants, this will be an introduction to the material, with encouragement to complete all 28 days of the workbook. The Rev. Dr. Irwin Jennings of the Lakeside Chautauqua Religious Life Department will facilitate the course. He will also be preaching, “Freedom from Worry,” based on Matthew 10:26-31, at the 8:30 a.m. Dockside Worship Service on Sunday, June 23 at the Pavilion West Deck.

For more information, contact Dr. Jennings at (330) 390-5010 or jennings@bright.net.

Modern Slavery

In this lecture, Tausha Perdue will present a basic overview of the history and contemporary aspects of domestic minor sex trafficking. Topics include the impact trafficking has on individual and community well-being, national and local statistics, tips on identification of risk factors, and ideas on how to get involved in the social justice issue.

The session will provide Ohio-specific legislative and policy initiatives to educate attendees on the steps the state has taken to combat trafficking, including information from the Ohio Attorney General’s Task Force. Participants will learn about the Ohio Governor’s Task Force.

Perdue currently serves as the Co-Chair Elect of the Lucas County Human Trafficking Coalition and is the Co-Founder of the Trafficking Education in Toledo, Ohio. Since 2009, she has served on the Research and Analysis Committee of the Ohio Attorney General’s Commission on Trafficking in Persons, as well as a member of The National Research Consortium on Commercial Sexual Exploitation. Perdue holds a Bachelor of Arts and a Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice from Ohio State University.

Perdue received her bachelor’s degree in criminal justice with a minor in Sociology from Bowling Green State University. In 2009, she completed her master’s degree in criminal justice with a minor in the area of mental health from the University of Michigan. Perdue will begin pursuing a PhD in the University of Southern California’s School of Social Work in Fall 2014.

This lecture will begin with a visual of “Kidnapped Cousins,” a photo of young girls who work in a dance studio while trafficking occurs in the background of this image. This content will include today’s beauty pageant culture and how this has contributed to the impact that constant exposure to certain stereotypes present in the media can have on children and their development of self-esteem.

This visually engaging presentation will encourage participants to reflect on the commonplace and ubiquitous presentation of media that are sent to youth through the media. Parents, guardians and family members will receive practical tips on encouraging dialogue with youth and establishing boundaries to protect them from the harmful effects of social media. This lecture will help them learn how to recognize and respond to red flags that indicate that a child may be a victim of trafficking.

The Rescue Child model will be discussed to show how participants may increase their awareness of the signs and symptoms of human trafficking. Strategies for effective coalition building to unite community systems on trafficking will be provided.

This lecture will begin with a visual of “Kidnapped Cousins,” a photo of young girls who work in a dance studio while trafficking occurs in the background of this image. This content will include today’s beauty pageant culture and how this has contributed to the impact that constant exposure to certain stereotypes present in the media can have on children and their development of self-esteem.

This visually engaging presentation will encourage participants to reflect on the commonplace and ubiquitous presentation of media that are sent to youth through the media. Parents, guardians and family members will receive practical tips on encouraging dialogue with youth and establishing boundaries to protect them from the harmful effects of social media. This lecture will help them learn how to recognize and respond to red flags that indicate that a child may be a victim of trafficking.

The Rescue Child model will be discussed to show how participants may increase their awareness of the signs and symptoms of human trafficking. Strategies for effective coalition building to unite community systems on trafficking will be provided.

1929 Lakeside – A Very Memorable Year with Gretchen S. Curtis (Chautauqua Hall)

Optimism prevailed in the early months of 1929 as Lakesiders watched the construction of the huge arched theater. Its celebratory dedication followed on June 30. The eight-week summer season offered wonderful entertainment and a two-week Bible Conference. Ohio Governor Myers Cooper spoke on July 6 and Evangelist Billy Sunday drew a crowd of 5,000 when he railed for prohibition on August 23. The new Sandusky Bay Bridge also opened.

But 1929 would end on a somber note when a fire on October 20 destroyed the Methodist Church and all the cottages except the church parsonage. In November, the Lakeside and Marblehead Railroad applied to abandon passenger service and the Lakeside station. Seminar speaker, Gretchen S. Curtis, Heritage Society director of Operations, will explore treasures in autograph books provided a glimpse of young women’s customs in the 1920s. Visit www.chautauqua.com or www.chautauqua.com to learn more.

Lakeside Women’s Club Program

10:30 a.m. Tuesday: Friendships of Young Women as Revealed in Historical Autograph Books, presented by Gretchen S. Curtis (Lakeside Women’s Club Green Gables). Long before cell phones and social media, the verses and Victorian illustrations in autograph books provided a glimpse of young women’s customs in the 1820s-1940s. Using a collection of five antique books belonging to young women with Lakeside connections more than 100 years ago, presenter Gretchen S. Curtis, Heritage Society director of Operations, will explore treasures hidden among the pages.

Ohio's Most Beautiful Mile & Chautauqua Park continue to enhance the lives of Lakesiders

Jessica Kidd
Advancement Manager

Lakeside Chautauqua has been providing a place for reconnecting with nature and loved ones for many generations.

For Robert Brucken, Lakeside Chautauqua holds a special place in his heart since he was 10 years old. Brucken has witnessed creation, remarkable transformations of the grounds throughout his time at Lakeside. He continues to work with the achievements of the staff and the passionate volunteers for the Lakeside mission, year after year.

Brucken’s workouts and runs cover five miles per day around Lakeside, especially along Ohio’s most beautiful mile and throughout Chautauqua Park.

In July, the walking trail extension in Chautauqua Park provides peaceful scenery to walk through, allowing Brucken to reconnect with his wife, Lois. The family placed her ashes in the memorial garden last July.

“When I run on the trails, I feel as though I reconnect with Lois,” said Brucken. He explains the importance of having her with him as he runs, as he reflects on the days her ashes were placed.

Facility upgrades enhance the Lakeside Chautauqua experience

In late April, the Advancement & Marketing Department moved from the Conference Center to the Administration Office to the Legacy House.

The Legacy House is located at 217 Walnut Ave., across from Artists’ N. Cohos, the Lakeside Amphitheater.

With the generous help of the Lakeside Fund Ambassador Initiative and the legacy volunteers, the Lakeside Chautauqua Maintenance Department transformed the space into the Legacy House, including eight offices and a conference room.

The Spring Clean Up Day volunteers worked in hallways, on walls, in offices, and assembled office furniture and hung dry erase boards for the staff. They also planted a garden under Lois Brucken’s volunteer team led by Rebecca Innerst.

In the off-season, the Maintenance Department helped transform office equipment and books to the Legacy House.

The time and efforts of the Spring Clean Up Day volunteers and the Lakeside Chautauqua Maintenance Department were greatly appreciated.

Some of the facility upgrades to the Legacy House included new paint, carpet, curtains and matching office furniture or the hallway.

Phone and Internet connections are also included throughout the house for the new office layout.

The offices of Gretchen Colon, vice president of Advancement & Communications, Alexandra Stelter, director of Marketing, and Melissa Kunz, Content manager, are located in the Legacy House.

Two full-time staff members, Jessica Kidd, Advancement manager, and Sarah Milheim, Advancement & Communications coordinator, moved into the Legacy House after they began work in mid-May.

In addition, a total of six Lakeside Leadership Academy interns work in the new conference center.

The Legacy House also provides a comfortable space for Lakeside volunteers to visit with Colon and Kidd. “Previously, the Advancement Office was in a small space; where it was difficult to meet privately with guests about supporting Lakeside financially,” said Kidd. “The Legacy House provides a space where guests’ concerns and questions are being kept private and confidential.”

The Advancement and Marketing staff has already benefited from working in one location, where weekly department meetings and team building sessions are held at the conference table or on the front porch.

Robert Brucken

“When we placed her ashes, the landscaping was in process, so the ground was covered with mulch,” explained Brucken. “Karen Stilgenbauer and Gretchen Colon personally laid wooden sheets to allow for the place- ment to move forward. That is real servant service that is hard to find.”

Chautauqua Park continues to allow Lakesiders, like Brucken, to reconnect with loved ones and enjoy nature, while enhancing the Lakeside Chautauqua experience.

Lakesiders take to Third Street as the Fund Run/Walk begins.

Many thanks to all participants, for your generosity of support for Chautauqua.

The 4th Annual Lakeside Fund Run/Walk was held on Sunday, July 14 in memory of Memorial Day weekend. More than 130 participants came to support the Lakeside Fund and “ring in” the summer season.

The Lakeside Fund Run/Walk is a one-mile course through Lakeside. Participants of all ages wore their finest Lakeside T-shirts and tied bells to their shoes to show their Chautauqua spirit.

This year, Robert Brucken accepted at audition for the Lakeside Chautauqua’s T-shirt that was from 2007, and also running for a prize. The winner was a 10-month-old, youngest participant.

The multi-generational involvement allowed friends, residents and Chautauqua visitors to support Lakeside. Many partic- ipants gave generous gifts, and the event inspired many others to give to the Lakeside Fund for the first time.

“The Lakeside Fund is used to bridge the gap between earned income and the cost of operations for Lakeside Chautauqua,” said Kidd. “Chautauqua Pass fees only cover a portion of the cost of the Lakeside Chautauqua programs. Events like the Lakeside Fund Run/Walk help to se- cure funds that make the Chautauqua program, historic buildings and grounds possible. Lakesiders can take pride in knowing that their efforts, big or small, continue to make a difference in maintan- ing Lakeside Chautauqua, a community that holds a special place in the hearts of all who visit.”

Charles Bond values Lakeside as more than a place to vacation and true opportunity to renew and re-energize. So like many Lakesiders, Bond feels it is important to volunteer time and plan a financial gift for Lakeside’s future.

His earliest memory of the community is vague, dating to Lakeside in the 1950s or 1960s. His current history with Lakeside began in 1990 with his 60th birthday and joining his children and grand-children to celebrate. The Bond family has continued to return during Lutheran Chautauqua Week with as much of the family as possible, depending on their busy schedules. Bond’s daughter rented a cottage for him in the summers of 2006, 2011 and 2012, after the passing of his wife in 2010. He purchased a condominium in the Lakeside Historic Inn, to return to each summer. “The word service(s) serves as a basis for our philosophy and I return during Lutheran Chautauqua Week,” Bond has proclaimed.

For more than 24 years, Lakeside Chautauqua has been a home away from home for Charles Bond. When Jo Juett passed away in Oc- tober 2013, after her husband, John, passed in 2010, it was only natural that their daughter chose The Memorial Garden as the final resting place. “Lakeside is deeply rooted in our family’s past,” explains Bond.

The Juett family chooses as a final resting place the Lakeside memorial garden as it is a final resting place. “Lakeside is deeply rooted in our family’s past,” explains Bond.

In order to maintain the Lakeside Chautauqua experience, Bond said, “It is important to share the Lakeside experience with future generations and ensure Lakeside continues to grow.”

A gift may include pledging an endowment for the benefit of Lakeside, to increase the endowment, or to make a gift to The Memorial Garden at Lakeside Chautauqua. “I can’t imagine them being anywhere else. The memorial garden, it’s just meant to be.”

MaryAnn Kelmer, the new Director of the Rhein Center

Rhein Center staff presents free daily ARTrageous Pages

Kelley Cecora
Communications Intern

MaryAnn Kelmer is thrilled to celebrate her 21st year at Lakeside Chautauqua, the first of a new C. Kirk Rhein, Jr., Center for the Living Arts Director. She has been serving as the position's Administrative Assistant for the past two seasons under Richard and Sheri Keel. Kelmer first came to Lakeside Chautauqua with her family in 1993. She has, her husband Mark, and their two sons, with the atmosphere and soon went from coast-to-coast to homemaker.

"It didn't take long to know that would found the "place" to return to every year," Kelmer said. "I love the feeling of home we've come to know: our cottage, our neighbors, our friends and relatives who visit us every summer."

Before coming to Lakeside Chautauqua, Kelmer spent time traveling with her husband, Fabric Rescue, which teaches people how to create usable fabrics from their sewing by making.

Passionate about lecturing, teaching and quilt design, she instructed a Fabric Rescue class at the Rhein Center. The class resulted in Kelmer taking on the Administrative Assistant position for the Rhein Center's Co-Directors. During her time as the Administrative Assistant, she became a clear asset to the Lakeside Chautauqua team. Involved with the day-to-day operations of the art center, Kelmer gained valuable insight about the position.

As the new Director, she will continue to build the Rhein Center's reputation as a happy and creative environment.
