- How to hang artwork:
 - Use only D-ring or eyehooks; place them as shown on the short horizontal lines.
 - Use braided picture hanging wire that is heavy enough to support the artwork. Hardware can be obtained at craft stores, hardware stores, etc.
 - Loop the hanging wire through each hook twice, leaving a 2-3" tail. Wrap the tail around the long end of the wire like a braid. Use electrical tape to cover the wire ends so that the installers do not prick themselves on the sharp ends.
 - The hanging wire should be long enough so that its peak will be 1-2" from the top center of the frame.
 - Note: No artwork will be hung if it is not properly wired. There will be a $25 charge per artwork that requires the installers to wire it for hanging.
