Lago Coastal Café

Prepare your taste buds for a fusion of Hawaiian, Cuban, American, Asian and Mexican cuisine! This summer, we’re excited to open Lago Coastal Café, a restaurant operated by Gabe Zeller and Julie Mesenburg that will offer a menu comprised of these delicious, diverse food options.

You may already be familiar with Gabe and Julie’s cuisine, as they are the creators of Barra, a modern global and local impact of Leahy musicianship, Doug Leahy with his wife Jennifer and their six children, keeping the legacy and tradition alive. Doug and Jennifer are lifelong musicians that understand the joy and exhilaration of the moment only music can provide. It’s no wonder their children, ranging in ages 8-16, inherited special talents and a passion for music. The Leahy children are accomplished multi-instrumentalists and vocalists that will fill Hoover with the sounds of song, fiddle, cello, French accordion, piano and French-canadian step-dancing.

In support of the concepts laid out in the Master Plan, and pickleball lovers may even wish to announce the Dedication of the new Hubbard Pickleball Center at 9 a.m. Saturday, July 6. Located south of the Williams Tennis Campus, the new state-of-the-art facility includes eight dedicated pickleball courts and a central gathering pavilion surrounded by beautiful landscaping.

The idea of a Pickleball Center was a two-year project that was laid out by the Master Plan, and pickleball lovers were investigating the possibility of building courts. Soon after, the Lakeside Chautauqua Board of Directors named a Pickleball Taskforce to explore costs and a potential location.

Taskforce members included Mike Bettersworth, Doug Bohl, Jeff Chemy, Jeff DiFerro, Eric Fado, Dick Hubbard, Tom Jonas, Kim Minardi, Maggie Smith, Mike Stedlow, Liz Williams, Randy Snow, Bill Drackett, Geren Conlon, Dan Dudley and Kevin Sibbring.

While the taskforce researched, Lakesiders began to raise funds with the assistance of the Lakeside Chautauqua Foundation. As we dedicate this new facility, we are deeply grateful to the many generous Lakesiders and other friends and family members. Without your passion, vision and financial support, these courts would not have come to fruition.

Gabe Zeller is a founder of pickleball that combines elements of tennis, badminton and pongo. The sport has become a trending activity in our community and around the country. Like any amazing Lakeside pastime, a hallmark of this game is that it’s fun for all ages and skill levels.

Compared to tennis, it has a lighter ball, a smaller court and less expensive equipment. This means that rounds can last a lot longer and get started in the sport is easier.

The family-friendly nature of the game comes from the fact that it was created by a family for their own use in 1965. The purpose was to give all ages an activity to participate in. The name came from the family dog, Pickles, who loved to chase the down the court.

The Lakeside Pickleball Center provides a lively environment for guests of all ages, skill levels and backgrounds. Like any amazing Lakeside pastime, it has a hallmark of this game is that it’s fun for all ages and skill levels.

Next Generation Leahy

Lakeside’s favorite Celtic family, Next Generation Leahy, returns to Hoover Auditorium for an evening of nonstop-huddling, singing and dancing. The Leahys are three generations of Leahy musicianship, Doug Leahy with his wife Jennifer and their six children, keeping the legacy and tradition alive. Doug and Jennifer are lifelong musicians that understand the joy and exhilaration of the moment only music can provide. It’s no wonder their children, ranging in ages 8-16, inherited special talents and a passion for music.

The Leahy children are accomplished multi-instrumentalists and vocalists that will fill Hoover with the sounds of song, fiddle, cello, French accordion, piano and French-canadian step-dancing. Every summer, Lakeside hosts more than 4,000 events, so it was important to find an interface that could hold our extensive schedule of events but still be easy-to-taste for guests.

Lake Othea's legacy is filled with incredibilite stories about its people, events and traditions. As Lake Othea stands on the edge of our 150th anniversary, we are proud to announce our "Lakeside Then & Now" Exhibit. This summer, Lakeside Chautauqua Bicentennial is proud to announce the following important investments to improve your guest experience.

1. Parking Lot: The Lakeside parking lot is being extended and will be accessible from inside the gates, allowing for easier access to the grounds and the facilities.

2. Main Entrance: The entrance to the hotel is being upgraded to provide a more welcoming and user-friendly experience.

3. Hotel Amenities: The hotel will be undergoing a major renovation, including updated rooms, improved facilities, and enhanced services.

4. Visitor Center: The visitor center will be expanded and improved to offer a more convenient and informative experience for guests.

5. Sign up for Rhein Center classes: The Rhein Center is a big, green building on the corner of Walnut Avenue and Maple Street. It houses all of the art classes offered at Lakeside.

6. Go to the Farmers' Market: The Farmers' Market is a great way to explore the local produce and farmers. Every Tuesday from 3-6 p.m., farmers set up shop along Walnut Avenue and Maple Street.

7. Go to the Main Street Entrance: From the era of historic maps and pictures, read about the generations of Lakeites that have shaped this Chautauqua Peninsula. The era of black and white film to the vibrant colors of today, celebrate the natural essence of Lakeside throughout the years.

8. Download the App: Lakeside offers an app called Do the Mambo, which leads right into the next tip.

9. Get involved: The community is always looking for new members to join.

10. Talk to strangers: A staple of Lakeside, this is one of the most comprehensive and up-to-date apps available at lakesideohio.com/donations.

11. Enroll in the Third Street entrance: For those with more familiar with food than finding a place to stay, this tip offers an option to grab a quick snack or snack.

12. Go to a Hoover Show: Hoover Auditorium hosts a variety of entertainment events.

13. Mayflies don't bite: These crunchy little flies buzz and serve as our slice of the peninsula and stick themselves just about anywhere. They're easy to ignore; they're tiny, but don't they bite? It helps, they're not too concerned about it. Lakeside is healthy. The more mayflies we see, the healthier the lake is!

14. Go to the Farmers' Market: A sort of rite of passage at Lakeside, this is one activity that everyone agrees is worth the time and effort.

15. Get a Farmers' Market: This is an important aspect of the community and developed over time through historic maps and pictures. Read about the generations of Lakeites that have shaped this Chautauqua Peninsula.

16. Download the App: Lakeside offers an app called Do the Mambo, which leads right into the next tip.

17. The only ATM's are in the Fountain Inn & The Rain Restaurant. In the business along Maple Avenue, the Fountain Inn is one of two hotels on the grounds. It's big and sticks out with its Spanish architecture, so be aware of什么时候 ice cream stands are open and eating is not allowed. Stay in the Third Street entrance when this happens. For those more familiar with food than finding a place to stay, this tip offers an option to grab a quick snack or snack.

18. Come to one sunshine and one summer: Another sort of rite of passage, going to the dock and watching the sun dip over the edge of the land can be extraordinary. This spot is especially unique because it's one of those places where sunsets are available at Lakeside.

Meet Michael Shirtz: Senior V.P. of Programming

Up until this point, Michael Shirtz has been best known to Lakesiders as a jazz musician, conductor, pianist, vocal student, and overall thoughtful person. But as Lakeside’s new Senior V.P. of Programming, Shirtz now has the chance to share his love of the arts, passion and experience for education, faith, and wellness.

In his position since September, Shirtz has been working to enhance programming at arts and wellness events, focusing on education, religion, and wellness & recreation.

In many ways, his background as an educator and college dean, and nearly two decades as an active conductor, producer and performer have prepared him for this position.

Influenced by his grandfather, former Big Band leader and producer Tommy Weldon, music and arts administration is clearly a family trait.

Shirtz has served on the music faculty and administration of Capital University’s Conservatory of Music, American Academy, Terra State Community College and Tri-C’s Juilliard and Performing Arts Series in Cleveland.

He has produced and conducted nationally with repertory theatre companies, symphonic orchestras and jazz programming, working with such artists as Dave Brubeck, Maureen McGovern, Melissa Manchester, Elizabeth von Trapp and his own jazz groups.

An advocate for arts education, mental health awareness and the creative economy, Shirtz holds degrees from Capital University and California State University in Los Angeles.

“Position allows me to share my passion as an artist and educator, but more about giving people opportunities to explore new experiences in the arts and education, finding new ways to investigate faith, and discovering healing and personal strengths through wellness and recreation.”

In his performances, Shirtz often shares about the traumas he has faced – namely a car accident that prevented him from performing for 15 years, a stroke he suffered right before a performance, and people who helped him during this time.

“Chautauqua experience for aiding in his healing. The wellness and faith that has helped me through everything, but finding wellness both physically and mentally is very important to me,” he said. “And so, I’m very passionate about every aspect of programming at Lakeside.”

Shirtz speaks with enthusiasm about the Programming staff as they develop new programs focusing on teens and youth, ushering in a new era of the Lakeside Symphony Orchestra, enhancing the education and religious life offerings, enhancing recreation and wellness programs, and introducing new performing arts initiatives.

He believes that programming is about nurturing people’s interests, yet helping them explore, grow and think beyond through quality opportunities for all ages. “I had visited Lakeside once nearly 20 years ago when I was performing with a group in Hoover Auditorium,” said Shirtz. “I thought it was a unique place, but didn’t become acquainted with it until I was invited to serve on the music staff.”

Shirtz started writing music, performing and conducting for Lakeside in different capacities in 2015 when he became the Religious Life Music Coordinator and Director of the Chautauqua Choral Programs.

“Our time, Lakeside just became a very important place for both my wife and me,” he said. “We would vacation here, and from a spiritual perspective, we began to feel a sense of renewal from all the different programs in the summer.”

Shirtz’s wife, Pamela, is also committed to the world of arts and education as a professional educator, choreographer, dancer, actress and singer. The couple believes that enhancing arts and culture creates a stronger community and enriches the quality of life.

While serving as a Senior V.P. at Lakeside, Shirtz continues his work as a performer and conductor, affiliation with the Jazz Education Network and producing his Jazz@8 Series.

The Little Free Library® is an idea that sparked a global movement. With Margaret Bernstein, 10:30 a.m., Orchestra Hall

In 2009, Todd Bol created the first Little Free Library® in his Hudson, Wis., yard as a tribute to his mother, a teacher. Ten years later, his idea snowballed into an unstoppable grassroots movement of books. Today, there are more than 80,000 Little Free Libraries located in 86 countries from the U.S. to Uganda.

How did the idea for the Little Free Library® become an international movement? This book traces the history of one of the biggest and most unexpected movements of our time. In its pages, you will meet from 11-11:50 a.m., and ages 8-12 meet from 10-10:50 a.m., Westerville Public Library

Chautauqua Lecture Series
The Little Free Library® Movement

by Margaret Bernstein

Cleveland, Ohio

Historically, Little Free Libraries have sprouted like sunflowers – in front of schools and storefronts, at churches, community gardens and grocery stores. In those libraries bloomed, so did a desire from residents to take these random book boxes and multiply them, much like sunflowers. And so, in 2017, with the blessing of Little Free Library®, the Little Free Library® club was formed. Today, Cleveland became home to the nation’s first “Little Free Library Neighborhood.”

As an avid reader and an advocate who serves on the Little Free Library® board, I will recount the story of how Cleveland’s Slavic Village neighborhood earned that title and why.

By the end of the first year, the project, Little Free Library® numbers in Slavic Village zoomed from six to 17, with neighborhoods across the state giving away books to neighborhood children, and k-3 grade literacy scores were on the rise in all five Cleveland Metropolitan school districts.

Reaching overnight success in the 1960s, Gary Lewis & the Playboys will share their popular hits with Lakesiders this week.

Son of the famed comedian Jerry Lewis, Gary Lewis earned Cash Box Magazine’s Male Vocalist of the Year Award in 1965 over artists like Elvis Presley and others. After a filmed “audition” in Savannah, Lewis was the only artist in the 1960s to have seven releases reach Billboard Magazine’s Top 10 hit the Hot 100 Chart. He didn’t face the usual problem that children of celebrities face in finding their own identity. When Lewis embarked on his music career with an audition at Disney, the entertainment director had no idea who the father was—he merely liked what he saw on stage. He hired Gary Lewis & the Playboys on the spot.

Before long, they were being played for packed house every night. In the summer of 1964, the group was discovered by a producer. Their first single, “This Diamond Ring,” went straight to No. 1, and a string of his followed.

Today, Gary Lewis & the Playboys continue to tour and entertain fans with Lakesides throughout the world. Most recently, they performed in Turkey and Greece.

Christian Music Retreat, August 25-27

The retreat welcomes those involved in church music ministry to worship and pray together, learn and share resources and connect with the peace-filled beauty of Lakeside. We’re excited to welcome Zac Hicks as our retreat leader. Hicks is the Worship Pastor for Ministry for Worship Leaders and an author. His book, The Worship Pastor: A Call to Ministry for Worship Leaders, has quickly become the go-to guide for active worship leaders. His passion includes exploring the intersection of old and new in worship and thinking through the pastoral dimensions of worship.

Hicks will share biblical and philosophical foundations for worship, as well as practical techniques for church musicians and leaders. The retreat includes time for spiritual reflection and renewal.

We know that as worship leaders and musicians, you pour yourself into others. The Worship Pastor: A Call to Ministry for Worship Leaders retreat will allow you to participate in rehearsals, sessions and worship and pray together, learn and share resources and connect with the peace-filled beauty of Lakeside. The retreat welcomes those involved in church music ministry to worship and pray together, learn and share resources and connect with the peace-filled beauty of Lakeside.

DIRECTOR & BOARD MEMBER
As one of the few remaining Chautauqua communities in Northwest Ohio, Lakeside is recognized by the Ohio Division of Forestry as one of nine Tree Cities USA. The city’s efforts to recognize the value of trees and to enhance its appearance are recognized by the Arbor Day Foundation. The foundation annually recognizes communities that have affirmatively demonstrated a commitment to effective and sustained forest policy and practice. In 1995, Lakeside was honored with this national recognition.
WHAT IS A TREE CITY USA?
Lakeside was designated as a Tree City USA in 2005, and has been recognized each year since that time. In order to maintain Tree City USA status, Lakeside must meet the following four criteria:

1. Adopt a tree ordinance;
2. Have a minimum of two dollars per capita in tree care expenditures;
3. Have an annual Arbor Day celebration;
4. Recognize a tree-planting event in our hometown.

Each year, Lakeside must achieve these criteria to maintain Tree City USA status. The Tree City USA recognition program is managed by the Arbor Day Foundation.
