Lakeside remembers Les Cunningham

Malley Glass
Advancement Intern

Whether they knew him as the Mayor of Lakeside, the happy man with the wheeled bike or the man with the clipboard, the patriotic rock singer, the Lakeside God Squad’s children’s procession, or the doorman at the Kite Shop, everyone knew Les Cunningham.

Les was a joyful, bazaar, faithful Lakesider for three decades before he passed on Dec. 17, 2017. Living to the age of 57, Les far exceeded the expected lifespan for a person with Down syndrome. Pat Casteranas, Les’s older sister, largely credits his longevity to the benefits of Lakeside.

“Les would never have been the person he was if it hadn’t been for Lakeside,” said Casteranas. “The level of freedom he had here was instrumental in allowing him to reach his full potential. And along with that, Les taught people not to be afraid of those with disabilities. He inspired people to know him and to express themselves."

Les first came to Lakeside in the early 1970s with his parents, Leslee and Pearl C. Cunningham. Leslee accepted the position as Lakeside’s Director of Development, a position now referred to as the Vice President of Advancement. Communication. Lakeside’s safe, familial nature allowed Leslee to blossom and express himself.

Les had a passion for sharing the history of Lakeside. A man who knew that children were Lakeside’s future, so he cherished leading the children’s procession in church for God Squad. He also enjoyed leading the procession because he enjoyed having leadership roles.

Les worked at The Workshop Inc., a nonprofit that provides income opportunities for individuals with disabilities, where he packaged and assembled various products. He became a production manager and a tour guide for the facility. Here in Lakeside, he also helped at Hoover shows and at worship service, doing tasks such as making sure that ushers had enough candles. Les also took it upon himself to go into each department to make sure that everyone was in attendance and doing their jobs.

Les also took it upon himself to be the dockside musician. Every Saturday afternoon, Les would go to the dock wearing a long-sleeve shirt and blue jeans. He was always laughing, chatting, and sharing his happiness with others.

“Les looked at the world through rose-colored lenses,” said Casteranas.

One of Les’ favorite traditions at Lakeside was a family tradition he shared with his sisters, Casteranas and Carolyn Bezars. Every Tuesday, the trio celebrated what they referred to as ‘Sisters’ Day.’ First, they would eat dinner at the Patio. Then they would play shuffleboard and get ice cream. The loser from shuffleboard was the one who bought the group’s ice cream.

Les passed away on Tuesday, July 24 to celebrate ‘Les’ life during Lakeside’s Day of Caring. Expect less, love, gratitude, and compassion to those in your families and in your community. Lakeside is currently arranging music, an evening modeled after ‘Sisters’ Day,’ a community picnic dinner, shuffleboard, miniature golf, and ice cream.

For more about the Day of Caring visit the website at www.lakesideoh.com/caring. To learn more about how you can honor Les, call the Advancement Office at (419) 798-4461, ext. 246.

Magruder Hospital Wellness Tip

Athletic injuries, whether temporary or permanent, are painful disruptive interruptions in life. Here are some tips on coping with athletic injuries.

Acceptance: situations, events, and energy from injury will hinder your's successfully moving through the recovery process.

Attitude: your outlook and attitude have a huge effect on your recovery. Avoid comparing yourself with others who have physical abnormalities and don't cut corners. Work as hard as you did in your rehab as you did in your training before your injury.

Magruder Hospital is sponsoring Lakeside as we explore and provide opportunities for health and wellness. Check back each week for a new tip from Magruder and community experts.

In a continued effort to promote health and wellness, Lakeside hosts a bi-weekly Farmers’ Market from 9 a.m.-12 p.m. every Tuesday and Friday until Labor Day weekend. You can find the market on Walnut Avenue between Second and Third Streets and along Third Street in front of Hoover Auditorium.

Farmers will sell fresh and locally grown produce, honey, herbs, spices, coffee beans, loose leaf packaged tea, maple syrup, seasonal fruit, homemade pies, jams, artisan breads, gluten-free bakes, raw energy food, fresh cut flowers and homemade baked goods.

New in 2018: Lakeside introduces gift cards & barcodes

This year, Lakeside is excited to introduce Gift Cards as a way to pay for Daily, Weekly, or Partial Chautauqua Passes. As a way to accommodate the expectations of our guests, Lakeside is planning to gradually phase out the Coupon Books, and switch to using Gift Cards as a way to purchase certain Chautauqua Passes instead.

This year, Season Chautauqua Pass holders will still be able to purchase Coupon Books. As always, each coupon may be exchanged for one Daily Chautauqua Pass (regular or reduced rate). Season coupons may be exchanged for a Weekly Chautauqua Pass.

For this first year of using Gift Cards, they may only be used to pay for admission into Lakeside. They may be redeemed for Daily, Weekly or Partial Chautauqua Passes. For the summer of 2018, Lakeside is excited to introduce Gift Cards as a way to pay for Daily, Weekly or Partial Chautauqua Passes. However, these barcodes will have no immediate effect on our guests. Passes will still need to be shown upon entering the gates, Hoover Auditorium, and the Grindley Aquatic & Wellness Campus, but the barcodes will not be scanned this year. Lakeside will be internally testing them this year with the plan of implementing the barcode system in 2019.

The HP&DRB preserves cottages

The Historic Preservation & Design Review Board (HP&DRB), by our title, and function, is here in part because of the need for preservation first. This can be very challenging.

Currently, there are approximately 970 homes that make up the Lakeside community. As its inception, and for decades after, there existed no such thing as a “streamlined” building or construction. Some owners/builders had little, if any, construction knowledge, and what material was “available” determined their structure.

In the present state, these older structures may not be structurally sound or conform to today’s building codes or standards or design requirements, but they do conform to today’s zoning regulations, before making a decision.

As we look at each and every application, whether the cottage is rebuilt, remodeled, or new, the HP&DRB is here to help owners achieve a cottage that complies with the charm and feel of the Lakeside Historic District. This is an extensive process, but the outcome is a beautiful community that is true to its historic character.

As always, Lakeside community input is important, and we welcome your constructive suggestions.

Hymns & Spirituals with Bishop Todd O'Neal

Explore the works of C.S. Lewis

We invite you to experience a Narnian summer day at Lakeside with Greg Linville this summer.

Bishop Todd O’Neal, Pastor at the Joy Christian Mission in the Cincinnati suburb of College Station, will lead our community in a congregational song and worship gathering for three Fridays this summer while he is here with the “Lakeside for Youth” camp. Join Bishop O’Neal and the youth groups on July 6 and 13 for the final two gatherings.

Bishop O’Neal coordinates the music for the “Lakeside for Youth” camp, and builds strong relationships with the campers year after year. Some of the youth will be able to join in the Hymns & Spirituals experience. Gather in Orchestra Hall for an inter-generational worship setting and find joy in the art of worshipping through music.

Rev. Dr. Deanna Ferree Womack, Peace in a Multi-Faith World, The Religion, in Christian tradition, is both personal and social holiness. There are many expressions of religion, and one’s faith journey is not the same as another’s faith journey. Each person, Lakeidean moves from person to person in their own faith journeys and lead us to an understanding of faith in relation to our lives. The sessions will be led by Greg Linville, PhD, who has done both literary and field research. He has interviewed multiple people, including the famous Eagle & Bird mansion for the “Lakeside for Youth Camp.”

Lakeside welcomes André Hoover Community Worship Services of Hoover Community High School, who leads her team to championships despite having a testicular tumor.

Laura Schroff \textit{Angels on Earth} 8:15 p.m., Monday, July 2 Hoover Auditorium

As an entertainer, Tuey Wilson’s performances go beyond the usual displays of juggling skills and include a wide variety of manipulations; it simply can’t fit into one categorization.

From the simplicity of tricks with coins and yo-yos, to the complexity of his 18-part combination tricks, Wilson’s shows run the gamut. He’ll throw cups, balls, rings and spinning ropes while wearing flaming headdress, and at the same time juggle torches perched atop a seven-foot freestanding ladder. The physical skill and coordination displayed on stage is at a level rarely seen in juggling shows. But, to the complexity of his 10-part combination tricks, everyone can appreciate his charm and humor. At one moment the audience is bursting with laughter at his quick wit and interplay, and moments later they’re gasping in awe at his amazing tricks.

Schroff, who has written \textit{An Invisible Thread}, \textit{An Invisible Thread Christmas Story} and \textit{Angels on Earth}, will speak on the power of acts of kindness and human connections.

About 20 years after Samuel Win- nypen emigrated from Birmingham, Eng- land, to the United States, at the age of 21, he decided to begin his annual Methodist Sunday School sem- inar. The purpose of the seminar was to provide life-long learning and would return to Lakeside as often as he could to take part in the Chautauqua program. More than a century later, Wini's great- grandson, Dale Knobel and his wife Tina, continue to see the value of con- tributing to the Lakeside Endowment.

Not only have Dale and Tina dedi- cated their professional lives to educa- tion, but as long as Lakeside is the place where they are currently celebrating six genera- tions, they are graciously giving one of the first Endowment funds to support the Lakeside Program. That hope is rooted in the fact that by contributing in this way, others might find it in their position to contribute to the importance of education at Lakeside and support the Endowment as well.

As part of the Chautauqua move- ment, education is paramount to our Lakeside experience. It's where ideas are quick to point out all of Lake- side's wonders. It is a testament to how badly people needed Lakeside. Perch Point can still use the lake, but the pool is defi- nitely a game changer.”

“I think the addition of the pool has spurred a lot of new development and renovations in Lakeside,” said Kathy. “The pool is a huge appeal to potential home owners and visi- tors. We can create a plan and fix those underlying problems with Lake Eco. the pool and splash park will continue to be important aspects of Lakeside.”

The Mocklers are also optimis- tic about the way that Lakeside has strategically approached the Master Planning process. Their long-time involvement in business and the business aspect of Lakeside. Because of this, we have a plan that's focused on the underpinnings of the projects.

Join the Mocklers in engaging with the future of Lakeside. To sup- port the Lakeside Endowment and ensure a vibrant Lakeside for future generations, contact advancement@lakesideohio.com.

To learn more about the Mas- ter Planning, we invite you to attend the Executive Summary at www.lakesideo- hio.com/masterplan. Tell us what you're most excited about and what we should prioritize. Comments can be submitted accepted until Wednesday, Aug. 1.

Lakefront Chautauqua houses a treasure in its Rhein Center for the Living Arts.

Arts programming began there on Aug. 8, 1999, thanks to a generous gift from the Rhein family, and the facility, named in memory of their son, Kirk.

The Rhein Center provides classes across the entire spectrum of the arts for Lakesiders of all ages. Classes are taught by artists and artisans who share a passion for inspiring creativity.

This summer, the Rhein Center will hold classes seven days a week, increasing the activity options for weekend Lakesiders. In addition to hosting Art in the Park on Sundays, the Rhein Center will now hold classes 11 a.m.-3 p.m. Saturdays June 30-Aug. 18 in Epworth Lodge.

To see all the available classes, visit www.lakesideohio.com/classes, and follow the links to the course catalog. Continue to check back during the summer, as more classes are added. You can also stop by on Saturdays to see what last minute additions we have. Those who need help registering or want to pay in cash or by check may visit the Rhein Center from 1-3 p.m. each Sunday. Weekends 1-1, and daily 9 a.m.-5 p.m. each week. In the table below, “or” designates single-session classes offered at different times and “&” designates classes that meet across multiple days.
