Welcome the Generosity & Stewardship Conference
Cultivating a culture of generosity through stewardship ministry in the church or a religious organization, with the goal of building God’s Kingdom. Creatively inviting Christians to join a ministry is vital to enabling God’s Kingdom. Attendees of the Generosity & Stewardship Conference, held from Sunday, Aug. 6-8 on the Hotel Lakeside lawn, will enjoy an evening home tour through the streets of Lakeside. Admission to Summerfest is open to all; however, tickets will be sold to participate in individual activities and booths if interested. To participate in each Summerfest activity or receive an old-fashioned snack, purchase tickets from 11:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m. in Pavilion Circle and exchange them at each booth.

Entertainment will be provided on the Purdon West Deck by the Big Rockin’ Blues Band from 11:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m. The band was formed in 2006 by lead singer Mike Weinstock (guitar, harmonica). He is joined by seven musicians, including Chad Greenwell (bass, vocals), Jenny Morgan (guitar, vocals), Daryl “Tank” Jumper (drums), Donna Buss (percussion), George Schmum (lead guitar), Mark Scarce (keyboards) and Steve Shapiro (harp, vocals). The band’s repertoire includes the songs of Willie Dixon, Elvis McDaniels, Tom Petty, Jimi Hendrix and The Rolling Stones.

Cotton candy and popcorn will be available for a ticket. A cookout will be held from 11:15 a.m.-1:15 p.m. on the Hotel Lakeside lawn. The menu features perch sandwiches, burgers, macaroni & cheese, coleslaw, applesauce, chips, cookies, pop and water.

The Rev. Dr. Clayton Smith lecture, Aug. 7
Northwestern Ohio Gladiolus Show blossoms in Hoover

Gladolius growers and exhibitors from Ohio, Michigan and Pennsylvania will participate in the Northwestern Ohio Gladiolus Show in Hoover Auditorium.

The Gladiolus Show, which has been held at Lakeside for more than 50 years, will take place from 3-5 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 19 and will receive their chief value is for cut flowers.

250 are native to sub-Saharan Africa, primarily South Africa. Although glad, as they are commonly called, are used to a limited extent for landscape effect, their chief value is for cut flowers.

Gladolius produce tall spikes of large blossoms in a rainbow of colors. Only clear, true blue is missing; white, pink, red, purple, yellow, orange, salmon and even green gladolius are available, along with many bi-colors.

The wide range of colors, sizes and flower types make them particularly useful for flower arrangements. The flowers will be distributed to the public, free of charge, after 8:30 a.m. Monday, Aug. 21, on the Hoover Auditorium porch.

The Rev. Dr. Clayton Smith will speak about conversations during one’s personal passion and mission during the second half of life during his lecture at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Aug. 7 in Orchestra Hall. All are invited to attend.

As the author of the book at the Crossroads: Leadership Lessons for the Second Half of Life, the Rev. Dr. Smith will use examples and testimonial from his book and provide special tools to help individuals plan for a purposeful life into retirement. He will share how to facilitate discussions with family and friends about shared priorities, expectations and end-of-life decisions, while bringing a sense of peace to all involved. He will also review how leaving a small piece of art somewhere in Lakeside, and it will be free for the taking to the finder. It could be anything from a piece of jewelry or a painted rock, to a small painted canvas or a tiny woodcarving. They will not be hidden, they will be in plain sight – perhaps on a bench or a table. The art will be in a plastic bag, which will be clearly marked as “free found art.”

My email address will be included if you wish to let me know that you have found the art, although this is not necessary. I just want to take the opportunity to brighten someone’s day in an unconventional way, in hopes that the idea might catch on.

There are only three things to keep in mind:
1. Please do not litter the plastic bag.
2. If you find the art and do not want it, please leave it for someone else to find.
3. I will not leave the art in stores, so badger shopkeepers about it.

Keep your eyes open for a plastic bag that you just happen upon.

This is an open entry show. Locals may bring gladioli on the morning of Saturday, Aug. 19 and will receive assistance in exhibiting. Special classes for novice, intermediate and youth are invited to attend.

The Rev. Dr. Smith and his wife, Lori, whom he has been married to for 29 years, share four children and two young grandchildren.

The Rev. Dr. Smith also has a passion for mission trips and has led several teams on national and international projects.

Coupled with this Monday evening lecture, all are welcome to participate in a group study using the Rev. Dr. Smith’s Crossroads book at Lakeside:
6-9 in Lakeside.

The Rev. Dr. Smith will use his book and personal stories to teach classes during Week 2 (Aug. 7-11), and I want to give something back to Lakesiders.

The Gladiolus Show, which has been held at Lakeside for more than 50 years, will take place from 3-5 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 19 and 11:30 a.m.-5 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 20. The show is organized by Cliff and Doris Hartline, 50 years, will take place from 3-5 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 19 and will receive their chief value is for cut flowers.

Lakesider

To the good people of Lakeside,

Do you recall the effort to help the children of the Haiti orphanage in the summer of 2015?

Since then, through the generosity of Lakeside’s generous fundraisers, we have helped feed the orphans in Haiti. I regularly travel to Haiti at my own expense to make effective purchases of food and supplies for properly feeding these orphans. On behalf of the Haiti children, we express our deepest appreciation.

Your kind support of this effort would be much appreciated.

God Bless You,

Walter Sommerl

Environmental Tip from LESS

Together we can help our world by making one change a week. Keep electronic waste, or e-waste, out of the landfill. This includes cell phones, televisions and any computer products. E-waste represents two percent of America’s waste, but it equals 70 percent of overall toxic waste. When the components break down, they release the chemicals inside. Take your e-waste to Staples, Best Buy, Goodwill, Habitat Re-Store or Cell Phones for Soldiers.

Community celebrates Annual Arbor Day Picnic

Sue Hudson
Lakeside Environmental Stewardship Society

The 8th Annual Frank O’Dell Arbor Day Picnic, organized by the Lakeside Environmental Stewardship Society (LESS), will be held at 5:30 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 10 at the Train Station.

LESS, offering its 14th year this year, is an organization of volunteers whose primary objective is alerting Lakesiders, homeowners and guests alike, to the ever-increasing need for environmental awareness and stewardship among all who enjoy the beauty of nature and wish to preserve this very special place.

One of the major concerns of LESS is the preservation and replacement of trees, thus the name Arbor Day Picnic for this annual event.

All Lakeside Chautauqua residents and guests are invited to attend. Attendees are asked to bring a dish to share and their own table service, and, in keeping with the purposes of LESS, to bring reusable tableware.

In addition to food, fellowship and an informal sharing of environmental concerns, the program will include: tree quiz, the naming of an Environmental Citizen of the Year and a Tree Walk.

For more information and/or to sign up, contact Susan or Max Hood at (972) 442-2774.

For this week’s History Highlight, the Lakeside Heritage Society returns to its “Toys of Yesterday” exhibit with the addition of a few vintage Raggedy Ann and Andy pieces.

Nearly every Lakeside has heard of Raggedy Ann and Andy. You may know you have a brother named Raggedy Andy.!

Carlton and author Johnny Gruelle introduced the Raggedy Ann Series in 1918 after watching his daughter Marcella play with a homemade doll her father had given to his sister decades before. Gruelle developed his famous doll brand by combining the names two of his favorite poems by James Whitcomb Riley, "The Raggedy Man” and “Little Orphan Annie.”

The Indiana-based author wrote one book each year for the two decades following his first publication, including Raggedy Andy Stories in 1920. In eachbrilliantly colored edition, lovingly referred to the adventures of his favorite poems by James Whitcomb Riley, “The Raggedy Man” and “Little Orphan Annie.”

Survivor Tree comes to Lakeside

Bill Smith
Lakeside Tree Advisory Team

On April 26, a seedling from the Oklahoma City Survivor Tree was planted in Lakeside on the hill overlooking The Memory Garden at Chautauqua Park. This small American Elm is intended to be a reminder to all of the faith, hope and strength of survivors who have lost loved ones.

The story behind this seedling starts in 2015 when I represented Lakeside at the Tree City USA Award Ceremony held at the Toledo Zoo. The featured speaker was Mark Bays, Urban Forester from Oklahoma. His topic was the Survivor Tree at the memorial in Oklahoma City. On April 19, 1995, Timothy McVeigh parked a truck filled with explosives in front of the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City. The resulting explosion killed 168 people and destroyed the entire north face of the building.

An old American Elm stood alone in the parking lot across the street from the Murrah building. The tree had been taken for granted but was a popular parking location. Commuters arrived early to get one of the shady parking spots provided by its branches. The tree was heavily damaged in the explosion. It was defoliated and most of the branches ripped away. Glass and debris were embedded in its trunk and tree truck blackened what was left.

Almost a year after the bombing, family members and survivors gathered for a memorial ceremony by the tree and it was beginning to leaf out again. Bays laid what was an almost heroic effort by professional arborists to nurse the tree back and to provide for it to be incorporated in the outdoor Memorial.

When hundreds of community citizens, family members of those who were killed, survivors and rescue workers came together to write the Memorial mission statement, one of its resolutions dictated that “one of the components of the Memorial must be the Survivor Tree.”

The inscription around the inside of the Survivor Tree reads: “The spirit of this city and this nation will not be defeated; our deeply rooted faith sustains us. An American Elm was established to collect seeds from the Survivor Tree. Now, hundreds of these trees from the plant are planted annually, and the resulting seedlings are distributed each year on the anniversary of the bombing. Thousands of Survivor Trees are growing in public and private places all over the U.S. Last November, I reviewed the idea of a Survivor Tree seedling for The Memorial Garden at Chautauqua Park with Lakeside staff and contacted Bays. The Oklahoma City National Memorial Museum sent a seedling and this idea just a few days past the 22nd anniversary of the bombing.

The seedling is small now and is protected by a bright red trellis. It will grow rapidly when it becomes established and will tower over the memorial gardens as reminder to all of the dead. The museums who have lost loved ones.

Lakeside’s Survivor Tree is the second to be planted in western Ohio. It is located at Spiegel Grove, the Bingham Presidential Library and Museum in Fremont.

Men’s Bible Study Group offers area youth and mentors a day to remember

Leslie Digby
Marketing & Graphic Design Manager

On Tuesday, Aug. 15, the Lakeside Men’s Bible Study Group had help creating connections that could change lives.

The men are partnering with the Ottawa County United Way and their program “51 Next Term” (NTT) to offer area youth and mentors a day to remember at Lakeside.

The Men’s Bible Study Group, who meets every Tuesday during the summer, collectively had an interest of putting their faith into action.

“This interest we had collided with some ideas that surfaced about the area,” said Bob Brymer, member of the Men’s Bible Study Group. “Fifty-four percent of students in Ottawa County are on a free or reduced lunch plan, so we said that there are great opportunities here to serve and to put our faith into action.”

Brymer and Randy Donithan contacted Chris Galvin, Area Director of the United Way of Ottawa County, for discussion options for outreach. Brymer and Donithan took these options back to the group and they elected to sponsor a day for the NTT program.

Lakeside will host approximately 50 pairs of middle school-aged children and mentors (which are already paired through the NTT program) and provide them with exposure to the four Chautauqua pillars. The kids and mentors will be broken up into groups that will rotate between shuttleboard, miniature golf and the beach area.

John Wilkerson, a retired pastor, will provide a shortened version of his Middle Grade Madness (MGM) program, lunch will be served, and they will all receive a T-shirt as a souvenir from their day at Lakeside. Lakeside will also provide these kids with a pair of Daily Chautauqua passes so they can return with their mentors another time this summer.

Additionally, after being introduced to the Bible study by a staff member upon their arrival, they will be escorted into Hoover Auditorium for a look at the historical and the historic; building, as we view it, as a looking-glass of society.

“A Pilgrim’s Journey toward Healing and Transformation”

Preacher of the Week

Overall Theme: “A Pilgrim’s Journey toward Healing and Transformation”

Healing is a broad concept that refers to the restoration of something, in the area of life, mentally, physically, emotionally, socially and spiritually. The World Health Organization defines health as a complete state of physical, psychological and mental well-being and not merely the absence of illness.

The inability to feel pain or empathy is a sign of ill health. Dr. Paul Bryan and Philip Yancey in their book, Pain: The Gift That Nobody Wants, describe pain as the body’s mechanism to preserve itself. Pain extends our horizons and leads us to discover something new about ourselves and God.

Naaman, the Syrian Commander, is a man who valued his reputation, in the eyes of Israel, he had leprosy. It is this “cursed” man who defied Israel and was then led back to his “enemies” to seek healing for his disease.

Firstly, the text teaches us that the26 subchildren, those on the margin, point Naaman to the Great Physician. Secondly, Naaman went to the wrong address to seek healing and restoration. Thirdly, rank, position and money can’t buy healing; rather it is a gift for the transformation of societies. The church in our day and age is called to continue the mission of the great missionary of Jesus. Mission is about being a transforming, healing and reconciling community that reflects the design of God. How do we share our lives and works for nothing less.

4th Annual Associate Members & Local Pastors Retreat
There are several challenges of change facing the Lakeside Chautauqua Church. One is a licensed pastor. A person called to ministry becomes a licensed pastor. This year’s retreat will focus on the five-year Course of Study. The school is operated by the national church office and taught by the National Religious Life Advisory Team.

This year’s retreat will follow a less structured format and will focus on spiritual formation. The retreat will begin at 7 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 20 on the Pavilion East Deck with a short worship service and the retreat registrations.

At this event, both attendants and Lakesiders are invited to the Sunset Vespers by the Lake Service at 9:15 a.m. in Orchestra Hall. This service is led by John and Bonnie Winkler. After the 3-day retreat, the Faith for Living Hour and Chapel Services will be held in at 9:15 a.m. in Orchestra Hall.

The deadline to register is Monday, Aug. 14. Please return the completed registration form and payment to Lakeside Chautauqua, Attn: Religious Life Department, Grindley Chapel, W. Hannon Professor of Worship, Frederick Gulley, for the last time this season. We’re excited to welcome the for guests and auto, but not the Grindley and Jerusalem. Columbus’ own Big Rockin’ Blues Band will bring their signature sound to the Pavilion West Deck from 11:30 a.m.-2:30 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 6 for Lakeside Summerfest. For their concert, they will cover songs by Muddy Waters, Tom Petty, Jimi Hendrix and The Rolling Stones.

The Big Rockin’ Blues Band was formed in 2006 by lead singer Mike Westnook, who also plays guitar and the harmonica.

He is joined by seven musicians, including Chad Greenwald (bass and vocals), Jenny Morgan (guitar and vocals), Daryl ‘Tutu’ Jumper (drums), Dean Russ (percussion), George Schumann (lead guitar), Mark Scurci (harp, guitar and vocals). The band has headlined the Bexley July 4th Celebration in 2008 and 2009 and has made five separate appearances at the Ohio Governor’s Mansion.

Westnook has produced four albums, including Two Missionaries and a Frog, Busking in the Third World, Ramblin’ Shores and Freight Train Blues and Off the Streets and into the Studio.

Family Night in the Park: Lakeside String Quartet 6 p.m., Sunday, Aug. 6

Steele Memorial Bandstand/Gazebo

The Lakeside Symphony Quartet will perform a special concert for Lakesiders. The rain location is Bradley Temple. Members of the quartet include Santino Ellis-Perez, violin, and Janos Starker, viola; Allison Brad Olsen, cello; and Parisot, Alan Harris (drums), who is a member of the quartet. This concert is sponsored by Lakesiders.

For this week’s Hoover Silent Movie Night, Clark Wilson, a silent film organist, will accompany the movie The General. Wilson, one of the most recognized scorers of silent films in the world, will play the live accompaniment as the movie is being shown.

For the third week of the Hoover Silent Movie Night, Clark Wilson, a silent film organist, will accompany the movie ‘Symphony Orchestra.’

Please remember to bring Chautauqua Passes when attending performances at Hoover Auditorium.
Daniel Martin, one of the most in-demand entertainers in the nation, will bring his spellbinding show to Lakeside. His blend of sarcastic humor and incredible magic leads to standing ovations and record-breaking crowds worldwide.

Martin was recently awarded “Entertainer of the Year” and was recognized as the highest rated touring act in the country by Campus Activities Magazine. His magic and standup have been featured on ESPN, NBC, VH1, CBS and many other live events worldwide.

At the age of 6, Martin’s grandparents purchased a magic kit for him, and it was love at first trick. At only 12 years old, he began performing professionally at hotels, clubs and restaurants in Chicago.

After years of perfecting his live stage show, he started touring with his highly interactive performances. To this day, he is hailed by his peers as one of the most creative acts touring today. Even more, some of the biggest names in entertainment quite often choose Martin to consult on their own live shows and various TV projects because of his experience, technique and ability to entertain in a variety of situations.

Multi-instrument phenomenon, Dave Bennett will take the stage of Hoover Auditorium for the third time with his “Roots of Pop Swing to Rock” show.

Bennett is a clarinet virtuoso who plays electric guitar, piano, drums and even vocals. He is the only artist who salutes the roots of pop, covering music from the swing era and early rockabilly, to Elvis Presley, The Beatles and more.

At age 10, he taught himself the clarinet while listening and playing along with Benny Goodman records. Later self-taught instruments included the “boogie woogie” style piano and electric guitar.

At age 12, he was invited to the bandstand of New York’s famous Sweet Basil jazz club, and by 14, he was touring the country with Michigan’s New Reformation Dixieland Band.

Bennett has been a featured soloist at Carnegie Hall with The New York Pops and has played at 75 performing arts centers across the U.S. He has also been featured on NPR Radio’s “Jazz at Riverwalk.” He is a Mack Avenue Records artist. His 2013 album, "Roots of Pop: Swing to Rock," features stars Tom Holland, Michael Kruten, Robert Downey Jr., Jon Favreau and Gwyneth Paltrow. Thrilled by his experience with the Avengers, young Peter Parker (Tom Holland) returns home to live with his Aunt May (Marisa Tomei). Under the watchful eye of mentor Tony Stark (Robert Downey Jr.), Parker starts to embrace his newfound identity as Spider-Man. Peter must soon put his powers to the test when the evil Vulture (Michael Keaton) emerges to threaten everything that he holds dear.

Thursday, Aug. 10
No 8 p.m. showing Monday, Aug. 7

Director Jon Watts brings an exciting superhero film to the screen that is the sequel to the Spider-Man reboot. This installment of the Marvel Cinematic Universe features stars Tom Holland, Michael Keaton, Robert Downey Jr., Jon Favreau and Gwyneth Paltrow. Thrilled by his experience with the Avengers, young Peter Parker (Tom Holland) returns home to live with his Aunt May (Marisa Tomei). Under the watchful eye of mentor Tony Stark (Robert Downey Jr.), Parker starts to embrace his newfound identity as Spider-Man. Peter must soon put his powers to the test when the evil Vulture (Michael Keaton) emerges to threaten everything that he holds dear.

Director Colin Trevorrow brings an American crime story to the screen starring Naomi Watts, Jaeden Lieberher and Sarah Silverman. Taking over the role of his often self-doubting mother, Henry blaze through the days like a comet. When Susan discovers that the family next door harbors a dark secret, she’s surprised to learn that Henry has devised a plan to help.

This year, four cottages will be featured at 724 E. Sixth St., home of Tina & Dale Knobel; 102 E. Fourth St., home of Jim & Betty Jane Young; 90 E. Second St., home of Tom & Debbie Jones; and 503 Oak Ave., home of Alice & Dwight King. The tour will end with a dessert reception held at the Lakeside Women’s Club.

724 E. Sixth St. “finestrre grigia” Tina & Dale Knobel

Dale Knobel’s great-grandfather began Sunday school and community conferences at Lakeside in the 1890s, and the family has been coming annually ever since. They rented all over the grounds before Dale’s parents, Harry and Gwynne Knobel, purchased a cottage on Jasmine Ave. more than 30 years ago. In the late 1960s, Tina began joining Dale’s family at Lakeside when she was during high school. When they started their family a few years later, their children’s first trips as infants were to Lakeside. After retiring as president and first lady of Denison University in 2013, Dale and Tina began looking for a new cottage where they could spend the entire summer away from the heat of their home near Austin, Texas.

Built in 2004, the cottage at 724 E. Sixth St. occupies an oversized lot on the corner of Cherry Avenue atop the old right-of-way of the Lakeside and Marblehead Railroad. The grey shingled house is distinct by its flanking porches, one open and one screened, and by its two-story high windows overlooking the historic “Castle” cottage. Tina and Dale have decorated the two-story great rooms and open master bedroom suite in a nautical theme. They enjoy displaying paintings of Lakeside and the local area by Rick Drakal and other artists shown at the annual Katharine C. Baldridge as a white clapboard round home. If a staircase as well as a pleasant Victorian garden located in the cottage’s yard is a non-profit organization that partners to start new churches and bring the needs of children at risk. Rough hewn lacey floors run through the first floor. Taupe, aqua and white are the color scheme in this open and inviting staircase. Italian granite countertops on the large kitchen island stand up to the traffic of the Joneses’ annual Fourth of July parade brunch, tennis socials, work conferences, and Lakeside events, as well as family meals.

A first floor bedroom, bath and laundry room make this house a well-planned home. Tom and Debbie have made Lakeside their year-round home where they celebrate all six generations of Lakesiders. Jim and Betty Jane have used it as a gathering place for multi-generational family reunions throughout the years. Betty Jane’s family and her two brothers have attended performances at Lakeside, the Chautauqua Foundation and Lakeside Chautauqua Boards, finding more time to tend his Salmon. Tina takes advantage of the short walk to Chautauqua Park to continue her many years as a Lakeside volunteer gardener.

A portion of this cottage was originally the summer kitchen for the adjacent house at 502 Lynn Ave. This property was sold, and the new owner enlarged it by combining three structures – the original summer kitchen, a cottage moved from the site of the Fifth Street Gate and an old garage from near Sypherd’s Cycles that only had a 6’ tall ceiling. The garage portion has been since removed, as its construction was very poor, and has been replaced with new construction. Some portions remain from the Munholland house (previous owner), Alice and Dwight kept the octagon window, which is now in the laundry, and the bay window (in the master bedroom). They also kept some of the contents. Scott Heacock was the architect, Joe Boss was the builder, Rick Shortridge built the new foundation and Jesse Guerra was the landscaper. The second floor has been added with two bedrooms, one of which is a great bunkroom for the grandchildren, as well as a bath and a landing area with a daybed. Skylights in the second floor create interest and lighting effects. Dwight is a longtime Lakesider. His parents worked at Lakeside before they married in 1933. Although they did not smoke, they saved what they would have spent on cigarettes (25 cents a day), to save enough money to purchase the land and materials for the cottage at 417 W. Fifth St. in 1932, provided they did all the work themselves. Dwight and his brother, Dean, helped their father build “Kings Corner” as young boys. Dwight brought his girlfriend, Alice, to Lakeside when she was 16, and she was hooked. In 2014, the couple celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at Lakeside with family and friends.

In 1883, the Hubbard family built a Gothic cottage with steep gables in the shape of a Greek cross. Located south of the dock facing the park, this was one of Lakeside’s prime lots. Having purchased the cottage in 1884, Mary Cook signed the lease over to her sister, Alice, in 1893. The cottage was used as a boarding house for many years and then stood empty for several years. A newspaper article indicates the cottage was used as a gathering center for Ohio Wesleyan faculty and alumni during the summer of 1923. In 1928, Arthur Hoover, Lakeside’s General Manager, persuaded Alice to sell the cottage to the Lakeside Association. Arthur negotiated with Lakeside Trustees that the cottage would be used as the clubhouse for a newly-formed Woman’s Club with his wife, Bessie, serving as founding president, a position she held for four years. The Lakeside Association painted the cottage, and Bessie donated furniture from the Hoover home across the street at 205 Park Row, most notable being the parlor wicker set still in use today. In 1947, the porch was enlarged to create a meeting room. A photo on the wall of the Eleanor Durr room shows how it looked. More recently, in 2012, excavation below the front meeting room enabled six concrete pillars to be poured with a new foundation. In spring 2014, new carpet was laid throughout the house and extensive new landscaping was completed. As you can imagine, a house this age is always in need of repairs, but in all the decades of building renovations, the original pointed Gothic windows, the ornate bargeboard roof trim and the gingerbread gable pendants have been kept intact.

Visit the lending library inside the entrance, the parlor with its painted stone fireplace, the four guest bedrooms (named for characters in Anne of Green Gables) that are available for rent by women over age 18, and the Corner Cupboard where you can shop for gently-used treasures.

There will be three classes offered, including Single-Handed Sunfish, Double-Handed Sunfish and Single-Handed Laser. All age groups will sail together. The awards ceremony will take place at the Lakeside Sailing Center (LSC), sail around Mouse Island and back to the LSC, near the Gundlach Garden.

Registration is free and will begin at 8 a.m. at the LSC. Trophies will be presented at the conclusion of the race. This race is organized by the LSC and the Society of Old Sails (SOS).
Lakesider

Beach Walk & Reflexology classes
Join certified reflexologist Dawn Condor, now in her tenth year at Lakeside, in the gazebo at the north end of the beach (the shower area) at 6 p.m. Monday and Friday for a beach walk. Condor will show participants how walking barefoot on the beach is connected to reflexology.

Tai Chi classes offered on Thursdays
An introduction to Tai Chi class will take place from 10:15-10:45 a.m. Thursday, July 26 and will lead to a Tai Chi Class (Yang Style).

Strength Training & Barre Fitness
Strength Training classes will be held from 8:30 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday at the Lakeside Upper Room Sept. 1 until Sept. 2 in the Upper Room. Focuses will be on toning, gently moving and improving the core.

Hatha Yoga classes offered weekly
Leanne Young offers breathing, relaxation and exercise through stretching, strengthening, sustaining and balancing postures. Classes are held in the Upper Room, located on Second Street above Newt Nead, every Tuesday and Thursday and Aug. 24 at 9:30 a.m. Participants will be taught by a certified instructor leading the class. She has been teaching yoga for more than 35 years. The classes will be offered once a week.

Celebrate shuffleboard’s 90th anniversary in Lakeside Cautaqua by designing a T-shirt to be submitted by July 26 to commemorate the 1928 establishment of the Cautaquan Racquet Club. The design is encouraged to be fun, colorful and summer related and should note that shuffleboard is a fun, colorful and summer related sport. The winner will be announced on Labor Day weekend. For more information, contact the Rev. Daniel Drew at hdrew@outlook.com.
Lakeside Chautauqua houses a treasure in Epstein Lodge, located on the corner of Vine Street and Sixth Street, known as the C.K. Rhein, Jr. Center for the Living Arts. Arts programming began there on Aug. 8, 1999, thanks to a generous gift from the Rhein family, their friends, in memory of their son, Kirk. The Rhein Center provides classes across the entire spectrum of the arts for Lakesiders of all ages. Classes are taught by artists and artisans who share a passion for inspiring creativity. Each week brings new instructors and new class offerings in areas such as drawing, painting, crafts, ceramics, dance, fibers, arts, glass, writing, and theater. Classes vary in skill level, length and number of sessions.

Free daily drawing and writing prompts, called ARTEdgePages, are available for pick-up on the Rhein Center on Monday-Friday. The Rhein Center is always looking for additional instructors and volunteers in leading a class next year; please contact rheincenter@lakesideohio.com or stop by to talk with Michelle.

Week 8 Rhein Center Class Schedule (Aug. 7-11)
Online registration with credit card payment opens at 8 a.m. each Thursday for the following week’s classes. Register online at www.lakesideohio.com/artclasses. Those who need help registering or wish to pay in cash or by check may visit the Rhein Center from 1-3 p.m. each Sunday, Weeks 1-9, and daily Thursdays for the following week’s classes.
